

ABSTRACT

The invention concerns a light metallic device interposed between tripods and cameras, placing the camera lens focus just above the axis of rotation of the stand, thereby
5 enabling capture of successive images, for a perfect panoramic view.